WAITING TO OPEN. Yesterday morning the various employed OSCAR G. BERNARD, manager of the dadien Square Thuster Company in Harri ishment found that the store was closed. A number of ladies were among the employes. It was some time before they found out what was the matter, and people passing by won-dered why they were all standing there huddled together. Some one spread the re-port that the key to the door was lost. A member of the firm coming up, told them they wanted to know

WHERE THE KEYS WERE they had better go to Register Hunt. This, of course, satisfied them that all was over, and that the firm had made an assignment. Considerable sympathy is felt for the employer thrown out of work at this time of the year. The news of the failure traveled rapidly, and the common report on the streets was that the firm had failed for more than $500,000. As the firm of Menken Brothers has been one of the largest in Memphis, and as the extent of their business has been very great, there was a general feeling of regret expressed at their misfortune.

SOMETHING ABOUT THE FIRM

A GOOD BUSINESS has been done until this year. But the en-terprise of Memphis having dropped out, and there being no effort on the part of the merchants collectively to attract the country say that the committee was thoroughly mystified. The Little Rock Gazette says that in New York, but refused to avail them-selves of it. Messre, J. S. and Julius A. Messken, who reside in New York, arrived here a few days ago, and they resolved to make the sasignment early Monday morning. It is understood that the firm will at so early day resume business. Indeed, it was said that not three days would chapse before they would open their store again. By their ssignment they have placed all their creditors upon an equality. ASSETS AND LIABILITIES.

A rare opportunity was afforded the re-gious community on Sunday last of hearng the subject of foreign missions discussed y the Rev. H. C. DuBose, of the mission of Southern Presbyterian church at Sea chow, China. Mr. DuBose preached in the morning at the First Presbyterian Church to a large and attentive audience. At night, in the Second Presbyterian church, a mass-meeting was held, where he again addressed a very large and highly appreciative audience. These efforts were scholarly, instruct ive and convincing. The discourse at night, especially, was one of great power. With a practical experience of some 10 years, a thorough study and comprehen-sion of the needs of China and the heathen world at large, along with a fervor which the work itself seems only to beget, the speaker's argument and appeal were irresistible. Mr. DuBose is a native of South Carolina, but is

The failure of this firm looks bad for this city. A short time ago Bejuch made an assignment; recently another dry goods house packed up and left the city; now Menken Brothers come in with an assignment embracing over half a million dollars. All of this can be traced to the narrow policy of the citizens, who seem to have been asleep to lawyers of the firm. Reaching the register's office they went to work upon an assignment, which they drew up, signed and registered. Deputy-Clerk Shea took the acknowledgment, and Captain Black was made the assignee at once. This was done in order that no attachments might be sued out against the firm, and in order that the creditors might have an equal chance for the assets.

The house of Menken Bros. was started by Julius A., J. S. and N. D. Menken, of Cincinnati. In 1861 they failed in Porkopolis, and coming to Memphis began a small estab-lishment. During the war the firm did so well that it was able to pay off the remainder of its indebtedness in Cincinnati. The firm did an excellent business from that time on.
Mr. N. D. Menken died during the yellowfever. In 1880 Messrs. Andrews, Hogan and Tate, who had been identified with the firm almost from its inception, were taken into

ing St. Elme as a master in his profession.

Every artifice and expedient was resorted to by the committee to eath the grander of the failure of this firm looks bad for this
